Dear students, benefactors, supporters, doctors, social workers, members of Tropic Team, today – on this great day of the feast of St. Charles Lwang and his companions, the first ecumenical saints from Namugongo and Kampala - I am not going to address you through this brochure with my own words, but with the idea of one of you. Our devoted doctor Zizka Kniezová Kalavská once told me: “How did I deserve that I was born in a stable family background that I am not starving, that I have got a roof over my head? By nothing. That is why I decided to serve those who were undeservedly born in cabins, are cold, hungry and thirsty.”

It fills me with a great joy that thanks to you, your help, prayers and sacrifices, we managed to build already 102 steps of hope for people in need at our school.

I thank you for them from my heart, especially on behalf of our 60 thousand treated patients a year, 8 thousand newborn babies and their mothers, 250 children with AIDS and also on behalf of 1200 orphans.

They are above all fates and lives saved by you. Let´s therefore stay intertwined also in the future.

The Elementary Boarding School in Kenya

Location: Kenya, Nairobi, Joska

Nature of the aid: Nature of the aid: An improvement of access to the disadvantaged and socially vulnerable population in Kenya to daily and boarding pre-school and elementary education up to the 8th grade, construction and operation of an elementary school

Importance of the project: Despite a relatively good network of elementary schools in the capital city Nairobi, there are still groups of children in Kenya who do not attend the schools. These are the children of the streets. Even if they successfully pass a resocialisation programme and are willing to go to schools, they often do not get an education due to high schooling fees, which are about EUR 600 a year. This is because the boarding schools are very expensive. The goal of the project is to build a school which would provide these pupils with education. The school is attended by 270 children

Bois de Laurence Agricultural Project, Haiti

86

Location: Haiti, Bois de Laurence

Nature of the aid: The project aims to establish co-operation and increase the availability of food and security in the north-eastern part of Haiti

Importance of the project: Two thirds of the population depend on agriculture, mostly peasantry. Frequent climatic disasters mean great losses for these people. The impact of such disasters is exacerbated by the almost complete deforestation of the country. 98% of the forests were cleared since the sale of wood or coal is often the last source of income for many a Haitian peasant who do not have other sources of income between two harvests. Location of the project, the mountainous community of Bois de Laurence/Laugamite, is a part of the north-eastern region, the area furthest from the capital city and other large towns where international aid is concentrated. People lack work opportunities and the land provides only minimum yields (lack of seeds for planting, know-how, fertilisers, access to the markets, deforestation exacerbates the impact of weather). Poor condition of an access road does not allow for looking for jobs

Costs of the project: EUR 15 000 per year

Main sponsor: Peter Kvasnica, Mário Paroha a spol., CA Orava, the Archdiocesan Charity of Olomouc and the School of Public Health and Social Work of St. Elizabeth, n.o.

Civil – mediation advisory service Sekvoja 102

Location: Slovakia, Bratislava, Pod Brehmi 4a Polianky

Nature of the aid: Advisory centre

Importance of the project: Civil-mediation advisory centre Sekvoja tries to help all people, which found themselves in adverse living conditions. Somebody needs to find his way through the problem and find out the possible solutions, somebody else suffices with a simple sharing of the problem and the possibility to discuss the problem with somebody else. Retrained advisors propose a possible solution and the client will decide which is the most suitable for him. The advisors are willing to help with its realisation. They provide the information about the rights and requirements, but also commitments which results from the law. They help with the communication with different institutions, partners, children and people from wider neighbourhood. The client can use the meditation how to settle the long term conflict out of court. The civil advisory centre does not offer financial help, assurance of accommodation, employment, psychiatric help but it renders information, where to find the help in all these cases. It never solves the problem instead of the client, but accompanies him and guides him to take the responsibility for his life situation

Supporting children of women prisoners in Cambodia

Location: Cambodia, Prey Sar

Nature of the aid: The largest prison for women is located in Prey Sar community. The project targets the children born to inmates in the prison or growing up behind the walls of the prison. In 2010, 13 children aged 2 to 6 years lived with their mothers in the prison. Given the fact that the daily budget per prisoner in Cambodia is 30 cents, these children do not receive proper nutrition and their educational needs are rather suppressed

Importance of the project: The project got the children out of the prison cells for a few hours every day and provided them with the necessary care. The goal of the project was not only to ensure the survival of the children but especially a better start for their future

Costs of the project: EUR 5 000

Main sponsor: The School of Public Health and Social Work of St. Elisabeth, n.o. and Amade Cambodge

Implementation: Amade Cambodge

The Food Aid for Somali and Ethiopian Refugees in North-Eastern Region of Kenya

Location: Kenya, Dadaab Refugee Camp, Garissa

Nature of the aid: Humanitarian aid, providing food to people affected by famine

Importance of the project: The goal of the project was to provide humanitarian food aid to people affected by famine in the region surrounding the town Garissa. This area was affected by a long-lasting drought followed by catastrophic crop failure and a high mortality of farm animals, which are the only source of food for the majority of the population living in that region. A total of 32 800 kg of food aid was supplied under the project to the region of Baragoi to the west of Garissah affected by famine as the food supplies from the World Food Program and USAID were delayed for over 2 months. Thanks to the Slovak humanitarian aid, we managed to keep providing food to 3,000 citizens of Turkan and Samburu for 2 months. Food was provided to 2,000 adults and 1,000 children living in 4 rural communities
